PRESS RELEASE

The Oklahoma Centennial Calliope will be a featured attraction at the Kolache Festival Parade on Saturday, May 5. The parade starts at 11:00 a.m. The Calliope plays music reminiscent of that which filled the streets at the time of statehood. This musical instrument produces melodious music from compressed air traveling through brass whistles. The Calliope can be played manually or automatically from rolls music mimicking player pianos. The Calliope is made available through the Oklahoma Centennial Commission at a fee of $800 to the Kolache Festival Association.
